SOCIALIST LAWYERS SHOW 'FRAME-UP' IN EVIDENCE SUBMITTED AT ALBANY

Witness Admits He Picked Sentences From Pamphlet That "Proved Case."

CLAESSENS SURE TO GO.

Speech Made in November Expected to Doom Him and Solomon as Well.

By Martin Green.
(Special Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

ALBANY, Jan. 23.—A pamphlet with a red cover, printed in Yiddish and entitled "The Dictatorship of the Proletariat," introduced in evidence in the trial of the five suspended Assemblymen yesterday afternoon, after a bitter verbal warfare between counsel, in the course of which lawyers for the accused threatened to withdraw from the proceedings, furnished an illuminating example of how easy it is to make a document serve a purpose when the purpose is concealed. The pamphlet came into the proceedings from the Lusk committee of the Legislature to investigate seditious activities in the State, and as an example of plain "frame-up" it cannot be surpassed.

A recital of the circumstances attending the production of this pamphlet and the succeeding developments is entitled to a generous allowance of space. But before going into the matter it is fitting to say that the trial, which was adjourned last night, until next Tuesday, has developed thus far these outstanding features:

The intent of the ruling powers in the Assembly to oust the Socialist members at the end of the trial has been clearly revealed.

The lawyers for the defense are more experienced in matters of this kind than the lawyers for the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly and have thus far carried off the honors of the legal contest without any of the fruits thereof.

A threat of the counsel for the defense to withdraw (such a threat was made twice yesterday, once by Mr. Hilquit, speaking for all his associates, and another time by Gilbert B. Roe, speaking for himself) had the effect of directing the other side into a conciliatory mood. In fact, the threats to withdraw earned the defense the only victories they have won thus far, although these victories were of the technical order.

THESE TWO SURE TO LOSE THEIR SEATS.

The proceedings are aimed at the Socialist Party as well as at the defendants at the bar of the Assembly, and the indications are that precedents to be established in this case will serve to guide the leaders of other legislative bodies in the United States who are determined to be rid of their Socialist members and stop, if possible, the growth and influence of the Socialist Party.

NIXON CAN'T RAISE CAR FARES, RULES APPELLATE COURT

Decision Upholds Ban on Queens Increase—Legislature Alone Has Power.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court today sustained Supreme Court Justice Edward R. Finch in restraining Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon and Receiver William R. Bogg and Arthur C. Hume from increasing the fare charged on the lines of the Manhattan and Queens Traction Company.

The opinion of the court was written by Justice Frank O. Laughlin, all of his associates concurring. It holds there is no authority for altering the terms of the traction company's contract with the city and says relief, if needed, must come from the Legislature.

Justice Laughlin said that while it did not appear that the Public Service Commissioner had decided to change the rate of fare, the court applied to an injunction had authority to issue one if he has assumed jurisdiction of a subject matter over which he is without jurisdiction.

Also the fact that Mr. Nixon had entertained an application of the receivers for a hearing with a view solely to an increase in the rate of fare clearly appears, the decision says. While admitting that the Legislature has power to increase the rate of fare, Justice Laughlin refrained from stating whether the Legislature could deprive the city of its reserved right to declare the grant forfeited for charging a greater rate than that prescribed.

The matter, he suggests, should be taken to the Court of Appeals for prompt decision.

OGDEN MILLS JR. RESCUES MAIDS AT FIRE IN HIS HOME

Servants Trapped on Top Floor Led Through Smoke and Flames.

DAMAGE IS $10,000.

Firemen Wrap Towels About Heads of Women Cut Off on Upper Story.

A cloud of smoke puffed out a basement window of the four-story brick residence of former Senator Ogden Mills Jr., No. 4 East 69th Street, as Policeman Oscar Caffery passed at 5:30 A. M. to-day.

Caffery pulled the door bell, sent in an alarm and returned. The occupants of the house slept so soundly he had to break the lock of the front door and go through the halls arousing them. Mr. Mills, whose wife is out of town, was asleep on the third floor, and when awakened called his niece, Miss Barbara Sanders, thirteen, and her governess, Mabel Worthington, whose room was nearby.

They dressed hastily and went to the Ogden Mills home next door, at No. 2. Mr. Mills remained in the house to aid in rescuing the servants. When the firemen arrived the house was filled with smoke, and none of the servants had appeared from their quarters on the top floor, where the smoke was thickest.

Fireman Fred L. Kutzle ran up the spiral stairway to aid the panic-stricken maids, Mary Convey, Helen Walsh and Corinne Jansen, and the houseman, Norman Gengenn. They were almost blinded by smoke and were afraid to try to find their way down. Kutzle had them wrap wet towels around their faces and led them to the street.

The fire started in the rear of the basement under the kitchen, apparently in kindling wood, and slightly damaged the kitchen. Firemen had to do a lot of ripping of valuable floors and woodwork, and the damage was estimated at $10,000.

RITZ BLAZE STOPS WEDDING FEAST; FIREMEN IN PERIL

SEVEN HOURS' FIGHT.

Guests Watch Rescue Squad at Work—Damage Mainly by Water.

More than a score of firemen returned to quarters at 4 A. M. to-day after seven hours of grueling punishment by smoke and heat during a fire over the grand ballroom of the Hotel Ritz-Carlton. At times every member of Engine Company 65 and Hook and Ladder Company 2 was disabled and the rescue squad had to work alone.

The marriage of Miss Mary Moffatt Borden of No. 215 West 95th Street and Kenneth Neiman Chambers of Harper's Bazaar took place in the Crystal Room about 8:30 last night, the Rev. Dr. W. W. Hellingier of St. Agnes' Church officiating. Following there was a reception and supper in the ballroom.

Suddenly, smoke began pouring into the room from the ceiling panelling. The guests abandoned their food and scattered. The hotel management reassured them and they left the room in good order, resuming festivities in another room.

SMOKE AND HEAT BOWL OVER FIREMEN.

Guests in the hotel were told there was no danger, and that firemen would soon have the blaze under control. It appeared at first that the flames were in the walls, among the electric wires, but it was later discovered they were in a "pipe vault," 10x40 feet, that extends partly over the ballroom and partly over a three-story vault to the hotel.

This vault is a network of refrigerating pipes, ventilating apparatus and electric wires. The insulation made much smoke and heat, and the Rescue Squad was called. Because of the stubborn character of the blaze, the hotel put temporary lights and thirty electric fans in the vault to aid the firemen, who had to work in relays.

The firemen were attended as rapidly as they were knocked out, and returned to duty. The heat was so intense that members of the Rescue Squad, under Lieut. Blessing, had their necks and ears blistered. They used twenty-two "cartridges," which furnish them with fresh air.

PULMOTOR NEEDED IN ONE CASE.

Lieut. Robert Jackson of Hook and Ladder No. 2 was so near gone at one time that the pulmotor had to be used to revive him. Acting Battalion Chief Murtha was almost blind when he returned to quarters.

During their work, the firemen were watched by many of the hotel guests. There was no excitement in the hotel after the fire's discovery. It was necessary to cut six large holes in the ballroom ceiling, and the water and sand damaged or destroyed many of the elaborate paintings and other decorations.

The damage will amount to many thousands of dollars, but the hotel could not make an estimate because the value of some of the decorations was not known.

Some of the damage was done by tearing holes in the panelling in the search for the fire when it was in its early stages. "Smoky Joe" Martin, who was in charge, praised Deputy Chief Ross and his men for their good work.

Find Minister to Marry Ex-Mayor Julius Fleischmann To Mrs. Laura G. Heminway

First Pastor Refused to Officiate Because Both Had Been Divorced.

Julius Fleischmann, former Mayor of Cincinnati, will be married this evening to Mrs. Laura G. Heminway by the Rev. Paul F. Jublet, pastor of the Science Lutheran Church of Brooklyn. It looked for a time as if the ceremony would be postponed because the Rev. H. C. Wammund of the Lutheran Church of St. Paul, Brooklyn, who was first engaged to tie the nuptial knot, declined when he learned that both parties had been divorced.

But the groom-to-be never for a moment doubted that the wedding would take place and was at all times cheerful over the outlook. Dr. Jublet said that so far from knowing that the contracting parties were divorced, he did not even know who they were. He told an Evening World reporter that he had promised over the telephone to be in readiness when an automobile called for him to go to New York. When asked if it would make any difference if the parties he answered that if they had a license and had observed all the laws of the State, he would perform the ceremony.

The bride to be is Mrs. Laura G. Heminway, No. 175 West 72d Street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leach of the Hotel Marie Antoinette. She divorced Lewis Heminway last year. Mr. Fleischmann was divorced in Cincinnati Wednesday by Mrs. Lally Ackerman-Fleischmann, and was ordered to pay her $25,000 a year.

The ceremony will be performed between 5 and 7 o'clock to-night at Mrs. Heminway's apartment. "It will be very simple," said Mr. Fleischmann to-day. "The only witnesses will be the parents of Mrs. Heminway, my brother, William, and my cousin, R. H. Fleischmann. My business affairs will keep me in New York for a day or two, and then we will go to Miami, Fla."

It is understood the couple will live in New York. Mr. Fleischmann is president of several corporations and a director of others. Mrs. Heminway has two children by her marriage to Mr. Heminway, Louis May, eight, and John, five years old. In the marriage license Mrs. Heminway gave her age as twenty-six, and Mr. Fleischmann gave his as forty-seven. He had three children by his first wife.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 23.—Cleveland, Ohio, may withdraw its deposits, totaling about $40,000,000, from the local banks and launch a cooperative bank of its own. Warren S. Stone, Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, said today: "This $40,000,000 must just as well work for labor," he said. Stone said he believed the co-operative bank might be a reality before the end of this year.

GIVING UP OF THE KAISER WOULD SOON BE REGRETTED, VIEW TAKEN IN HOLLAND

Press and Public to Back the Government in Refusing to Comply With the Allied Demand—Foreign Diplomats Said to Advise Against Yielding.

THE HAGUE, Jan. 23.—The Dutch Government's reply to the Allied note demanding surrender of the former Kaiser is reported to be a courteous, but flat refusal. The reply is said to have been transmitted to Paris.

Public and press unanimously took it for granted the Government would not comply with the Allied demand, basing its contentions on legal obstacles.

Newspapers said Holland would render a service to civilization by refusing to allow an action which, in the future, "would be regretted by everybody."

The Nieuw-Courant, expressing a belief the Allies did not expect compliance to their demand, added it "was most significant" how queer Premier Lloyd George and Clemenceau would appear if the former Kaiser was delivered to them.

Foreign diplomats here also expressed, unofficially, their desire the demand be not granted, declaring if it were the Allies would "become" the laughing stock of the world.

The Nieuw-Svanderdag asserted it did not believe Clemenceau even expected a reply from Holland to the Allied note. It characterized the entire affair as "theatrical."

The Courant said Holland would not be worthy of a place in the League of Nations unless she guaranteed justice to the former Kaiser.

PAIGIS, Jan. 23.—Holland's reply to the Allied demand for the extradition of former Emperor William of Germany is expected to be delivered today to Peace Conference officials by the Dutch Minister.

Reports from The Hague state the reply was despatched yesterday, and advice indicate the Netherlands Government has refused to surrender the former monarch. Explanations of the position of the Dutch Government are said to be given in the note.

FREIGHT EMBARGO STAYS.

Order Affecting New York Canceled by Heavy Snowfall.

Regional Director of Railroads Hardin announced today that the freight embargo will be continued indefinitely because of last night's snow storm.

The order affects "all Eastbound carload freight for delivery to Central New England Railroad or New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at Campbell Hall or Maybrook, N. Y., except livestock, perishable freight, news print paper, petroleum products, coal, coke, railroad supplies, grocery, meat freight and freight covered by F. T. C. and G. O. C. permits."

Passenger trains from the West were retarded by the storm. The Twentieth Century Limited from Chicago, due at 9:40, was delayed until 12:10. The Waterbury, reported similar delay. Passenger trains on the New York, New Haven and Hartford were about on time.
